

TED'S LIGHT

Giving light and bear hugs to children entering emergency foster care

Every 20 minutes, a child enters the care system*. Going into care is often frightening and disorientating, leaving children unsure of who they can trust and where they can turn for love and support.

Hugging a teddy bear can make all the difference when you feel alone, and we want to make sure all children entering care have their very own; and our Teds are particularly good huggers!

For children over 3 years old, Ted also comes with a small, portable night light, to help the child feel a bit less scared in their new room at night.

It may seem like we've got a lot of children to help.. and we do!
But don't worry, you can help a child too!...or three...or four!

By donating, you help to give another Ted and night light to a child entering care, helping to give them a little bit of love and security when they need it most. Every penny counts, but just £15 will have helped a child feel less alone with their very own Ted and light. If you can donate more, we can get more Teds out to give more hugs!
